User Story: Match History and Analyses

As a logged-in user, I want to be able to see my game statistics and analyses even outside of my games. I want to be able to see the statistics of my 10 most recent matches and read analyses on my performance relative to other players in and near my rank. I also want to be able to access all stored information about my gameplay at any time and view said data in various ways, including graphs. This way, I will be able to utilize the main focus of the web application to its fullest potential as a user who is interested in improving their gameplay.
